

Sing Us A Song

It's nine o'clock on a Monday.
The regular crowd wanders in.
Oh, we're here to learn a new melody.
Our teacher will help us begin.

This song will need lots of practice to make it sound perfectly right.
Oh, we'll know it complete,
make it sound nice and sweet.
We'll work on it day and night.
(spoken solo: Here we go...)

parts 1, 2, & 3 (optional), sung pretty badly:
La la la la la.
La la la la la la la. (spoken solo: Oh boy.)

part 1:
It's clear that we need more practice.
It does not sound perfectly right.
We should know it complete,
make it sound nice and sweet.
We'll practice it day and night.
(spoken solo: Try again...)

parts 1, 2, & 3 (opt.), sung a little better:
La la la la la.
La la la la la la la. (spoken solo: Okay...)

part 1:
I think we're starting to get it.
We're making it sound like it should.
Oh, we know it complete,
and it sounds nice and sweet.
It's finally sounding good.
(spoken solo: Now you've got it!)

parts 1, 2, & 3 (opt.), sung well at last!:
La la la la la.
La la la la la la la.

part 1:
Sing us a song, we're in music class!
Sing us a song right now.
Oh, we all love to hear that sweet melody.
It's fun when we all know how.

parts 1, 2, & 3 (opt.):
La la la la la la la la la.
La la la la la la la la (part 1 divisi, opt.): la.
